

GOEBEL.

Not The Worst Sinner In The State.

Says Our Old Time Friend and Democrat
"Cump" Henderson.

He Don't Approve of His Methods But It's Politics

AND THAT GOES RIGHT OR WRONG.

Mr. Furrow—I have been much amused at the number of papers and people who have become preachers of righteousness since the late Democratic convention. One who was familiar with the history of conventions would think from what is being said and written, that conventions in the past had been conducted on the very highest moral plane and that all who participated in this last one were angels of light, except Goebel and his friends.

The truth is, conventions have been the reverse of that.

To read the abuse heaped on Goebel, one would think he was the greatest rascal on earth. While line on line was treated, making him up, not one word was said for the part he played in the matter; on the contrary we saw much written about how bad he was treated, making him a martyr.

It looks a little to me as if the preacher did not care so much for the sin, but cared a great deal about who committed it. You remember the convention held at Elizabethtown three years ago, to nominate a man to represent this district in congress. We all remember what was said of that convention. It is well known fact that the committee of our State Convention for Clerk of the Appellate court, bought his nomination, paying for it in places in his office. Who ever was a county convention where there was a fully county ticket to be nominated, and two or more for each office that there was not trickery and combinations. It is the rule and not the exception that trickery and combination control conventions. The late convention was no worse than many other. Admitting what Mr. Owen says to be true, in regard to there being 150 delegates and admitting 150 others, that most of them were willing to do anything Goebel said, he then liked 200 votes of having a majority. So we see organizing the convention and throwing out delegates did not nominate him. Then how he was nominated? By following the rules of former conventions, making fortunate combinations with candidates for the major offices.

I heard a very sensible Hardin man say he owed his nomination more to his wife (judgment than anything else) than to his friends. I don't think he was a Stinson man and I don't think he and his managers ought to say a word, but ought to take their medicine like little men. What about the Hardin men? I think they ought to do the same. I think they looked too late. Hardie came out of that convention when it was organized and all the reports adopted and said to the delegates that it was through fraud that these delegates were nominated and that there was no chance for a fair nomination, then that would have not a different face to the matter. They failed to do that, but said and thought they would nominate Hardin. They fought to the bitter end and when they failed they bowed. I am surprised at the action of some of the delegates from this county. If I was a delegate there would be nothing surprising about it. I addressed a letter some days ago to the party through your paper in regard to the methods resorted to in this county to secure nominations. You dubbed it the case of a defeated candidate, and there had it in for you. I think it is a pity that you did it again, not to forgive you for it. I think delegates are acting very foolish in letting the Dispatch disrupt the party through hatred and spite. It is evident it is willing for the Republican party to control the State and elect a Senator to gratify its hatred, not so much of Goebel.

There is a right way to do all things. An expectant mother can easily make it, if she stops to think a moment, how dangerous it would be to swallow medicine without first consulting a physician. It is the same with the application of any medicine. It is the thing to be avoided.

of the Courier Journal and that fiction in the city. I have as much confidence in Goebel as I have in the Dispatch, controlled as it is by Whalen. Whalen is doing a great deal more to corrupt the morals of the people of Louisville and the State than Goebel and his methods can possibly do. I am taking the Dispatch and I think I never saw more vile manifested than it is in its columns. Look at its action in regard to the Goebel election law. It defended that measure until since the convention. You know its course since. I have a perfect contempt for such hypocrisy. I do not write this in defense of the methods that obtained in that convention, nor any other political convention. I have indicated that I had expressed myself plainly in regard to trickery practiced in conventions. Yet I do not think Goebel nor any other politician represented by it to do not believe him to be a traitor, either to the party or to Blackham. I believe he is in accord with the platform. I believe there is much to be said in his favor. He surely is a smart man. His public acts have generally been to the people.

He worked and voted for the McComb Bill and the China Bill, which had become laws would have been worse to the people than all the hills considered at the session. There is another thing that raises him in my estimation and that is, he did not have while that convention was going on, whiskey, wine, beer or cigars to corrupt men with, while at the other headquarters could be had anything that would debauch and degrade men. I think it is a shame that men seeking the highest office in the State should be guilty of such things. In conversation with Mr. Owen, the Democratic party, nor men who believe that if the republicans, Aug. 1st, the State that we will go to destruction, but I am a democrat in principle, and I simply write to show Goebel not to be the worst sinner in the State.

Life Well Spent Farming Profitable.
Lafa Wells who resides near Ashland, a son of the branch, purchased a small farm in that locality. At the time it was the general opinion of the neighborhood that Wells would not realize a cent. He did not pay any attention to outside remarks but went straight forward into the soil and giving his wholehearted devotion to the cultivation of his farm. He paid for the farm the first year. This year he has one of the finest tobacco and corn crops in that section.

FARMERS MEETING.

Timely and Interesting Suggestions From President Fouts.

BRACKENRIDGE NEWS.—The Secretary of the Brackenridge and Maud County Agricultural Society will in a few days send you the names of those who will address our Cloverport meeting in August, and the subjects they will present. Also date of meeting which will be near the end of the month.

Our Irvington meeting, have been both successful and profitable and I am glad to believe that the meeting we will hold in your city will be even more successful and well worth the time and expense of any farmer. In the county giving his work to attend.

Tell the farmers that these things are going to be strictly agricultural meetings gotten up for no other purpose than to stimulate a broader and a deeper growth of agricultural citizenship, and to do what we can to get the farmers to see the importance of more intelligent and better methods on the farm.

We do not come among you claiming apostles of agriculture, but expecting to "get good," rather than "do good," to get ideas that will come to you from the wasteful effects of ignorance.

Now that our crops are all made, or about to be made, let us come together next month in Cloverport; and after thanking our master for his bounteous blessings, devote one day to a discussion of ways and means that we may employ to reduce the cost of production, for the farmer and the consumer alike.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mr. Michael Curran, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement, that she caught, which settled on her legs; she was rescued by a doctor, who was a physician, but grew worse. He told her that she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her, her husband suggested Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. She bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking the second bottle, she found herself now doing her own housework and is as well as ever was. REGULARS

Do the Fighting and Volunteers
Get the Credit.

The Negroes are Very Treacherous and Mean.

Geo. W. Obichain Still Living and Fighting for His Country.

BALING, P. I., June 5, 1899.

MISS SADIE OBICHAIN, MY DEAR SISTER.—I will answer your letter which I received a few days ago, will tell you something of my trip and the time I have had since I landed at Manila. We broke camp at Calcutan and left with Gen. Lawton's brigade on the 22nd of April for the interior of this hot island. We were shortly in a fight with the insurgents. We cut off all communication with the outside world and marched towards the mountains with the enemy on all sides of us. We had several small battles in a few days, killing many of the enemy and losing many of our men either killed or wounded. We were in all the towns you have read of in the papers and when we got here we had to whip the insurgents again and burn their towns. We left Baling and in two miles had a fight resulting in defeat to the enemy. We went three miles further and had another fight with the same results. We have had a great many more battles but I will not recount them now. I am enough to know that I am getting used to being shot at but don't know any better than I did at first. I have made many close calls and been shot in places where the bullets were raining so thick it seemed impossible for one to escape but I have never been hit yet. No telling when I may be killed but I have an abiding faith in my Maker who watches over the destinies of men and lies in hopes of getting out alive. I take cover and protect myself when possible, but when I have to stand exposed I take it cool and trust to providence. We sent one company out the other day and it was soon surrounded by the insurgents and we did not see them again. We were very lucky to escape and gave us the alarm the boys in that company would have all been slaughtered without mercy. We brought the brave fellows in with the loss of only two men. We don't get credit for what we do here. The regulars are the ones that do the fighting and the volunteers get the credit. They mix us up with the 2nd and 3rd artillery and the volunteers are the only ones who get any praise. They have their correspondents right along with them and they always have time to write a glowing account of their deeds. The regulars have no correspondents that have the time to spare to write falsehoods about us, we fight and think it our duty and that settles it. The people in the states don't get a correct statement about matters here. I have a poor opinion of these negroes here. They are treacherous and mean to an extreme. We feel some of them at Staunton when they were fighting us the next day. They are a strange people. They have two suits or rather changes of clothes apiece which they always carry with them. They say they are friends and would carry a whip and in five minutes be shooting at you from some thicket. They have the advantage of us, knowing as they do every bamboo thicket on the island. They would murder anyone if they got a chance and they come around the next day and beg like a dog for something to eat. The better class here don't want to fight, but the rough, mean ones rule the rest. They are a band of murderers, thieves and cut-throats. They murder and ruin their own people and don't care for freedom as long as they can lay around in dirt and filth and plier some one, dividing the goods while their officers divide the money. Don't talk to me about freedom for these people. If they were set free they would be murdering each other in a week. If they were to surrender to-morrow there would still be as many of their would-be soldiers as now. Their generals are they are in it for what they can get out of it. If the people who live in the States and read papers which condemn this war as inhuman would come here and stay awhile they would think different. I have been fighting ever since I got here but we are quartered here now in private houses and may stay for two months. I received the BAKER NEWS which had one of my letters to you in one of its columns and I felt like I was most home again. Write me often. We don't have the chance here to write as you do so it won't be easy if I don't write you again in two months. Farewell for this time, Lovingly,

GEORGE W. OBICHAIN,
Sergeant Co. M., 3rd Infantry, Manila P. I.

Have You Made Up Your Mind?
What you would like for your new suit. No matter what the style, color, shade or pattern you fancy most, you will get it here. So many men say, "It's funny you didn't have this suit in the window. I could have made up my mind long ago." Very true, but we can't crowd all our styles into the window. Just walk in and say "I want to see your suits at such and such a price." The rest is easy.

PRICES ARE RIGHT.
